POETRY.

Be gentle with thy wife.

Be gentle! for you little know
How many trials rise;
Although to thee they may be small,
To her of giant size.

Be gentle! though perchance that lip
May speak a murmuring tone,
The heart may beat with kindness yet,
And joy to be thine own.

Be gentle! weary hours of pain
'Tis woman's lot to bear;
Then, yield her what support thou canst,
And all her sorrows share.

Be gentle! for the noblest heart
At times may have some grief,
And even in a petish word
May seek to find relief.

Be gentle! for unkindness now
May rouse an angry storm,
That all the after years of life
In vain may strive to calm.

Be gentle! none are perfect here—
Thou'rt dearer far than life;
Then, husband, bear and still forbear—
Be gentle to thy wife.

LITERATURE.

Champaigning the Law-Makers.

One winter there came to Trenton two men named Smith and Jones who had both of them designs upon the legislature. Jones had a bad wife and was in love with a woman, he wished to be divorced from the bad wife, so that he might marry the pretty woman, who, by the way, was a widow, with black eyes and such a bust! Therefore, Jones came to Trenton to get a divorce.

Smith had a good wife, plump as a tortoise, good as an angel, and the mother of ten children, but did want to get a turnpike or plank road from Pigs Run to Terrapin Hollow.—Well, they, with those different errands, came to Trenton, and addressed wisdom with the usual arguments. First suppers mainly composed of oysters, with a rich back round of venison. Second—liquids in great plenty, from Jersey Lightning, (a kind shape,) to Newark Champaigne. To speak in plain terms, Jones, the divorced man gave a champagne supper, and Smith, the turnpike man, followed on with a champaigne breakfast.

Under the modifying influences of these applicances, the assembled wisdom passed the divorce and turnpike bills; and Jones and Smith (each with a copy of his bill in his hat,) went home rejoicing, over miles of sand, and through the tribulation of many stage coaches. Smith arrived home the next evening, and as he sat down in the parlor his loving wife beside him, how pretty she did look; and five of his children asleep overhead, the other five studdying their lessons in the corner of the room, Smith was induced to expatiate upon the good results of his mision to Trenton.

"A turnpike, my dear—I am one of the directors, and will be president; it will set us up, love, we can send the children to a boarding-school, and live in style out of the toll. Here is the charter, honey."

"Let me see it," said the pleased wife, who was one of the nicest of women, with plumpness and goodness all dimpled over her face: "Let me see it," and she leaned over Smith's shoulder, pressing her arm upon his own, as she looked at the parchment. But all at once Smith's face grew long. Smith's wife's visage grew dark. Smith was not profane, but now he ripped forth an awful oath, "——n, wife, those infernal scoundrels of Trenton have divorced us!"

It was true. The parchment which he held was a bill of divorce, in which the name of Smith and Smith's wife appeared in frightfully legible letters, Mrs. Smith wiped her eyes with the corner of her apron. "Here's a Turnpike," she said sadly, and with the whole ten children staring her in the face, "I ain't your wife! Here's a turnpike!"

"D——n the turnpike, and the legislature, and the w——?"

Well, the fact is, that Smith reduced to single blessedness, "enacted" into a stranger to his own wife, swore awfully. Altho' the night was dark, and most of the denizens of Smith's village had gone to bed, Smith bade his late wife put on her bonnet, and arm in arm they proceeded to the house of the clergyman of their church.

"Goodness, bless me!" exclaimed the mild good man, as he saw them enter, looking like the very last June shade, and Mrs. Smith wiping her eyes with the corner of her apron, "goodness bless me! what's the matter?"

"The matter is, I want you to marry us two right off," said Smith.

"Marry you ejaculated the clergyman with expanded figures, "are you drunk or crazy?"

"I ain't crazy, and I wish I was drunk," said Smith, despairingly: "the fact is, brother Raymond, that some scoundrels at Trenton, unbeknowned to me, and at dead of night, have divorced me from my wife the mother of nine children.".

"Ten," suggested Mrs. Smith, who was crying. "Here's a turnpike!"

Well, the good minister seeing the state of the case, married them over again straightway, and would not take a fee.

The fact is grave as he was dying to be alone, so that he could give vent to the suppressed laughter that was shaking him all over.

And Smith and Smith's wife went home and kissed every one of their children. The little Smith never knew their father and mother had been made strangers by legislative enactment.

Meanwhile, and on the same night, Jones returned to his town—Burlington, I believe, and sought the fine pair of black eyes which he hoped soon to call his own. The pretty widow sat by him on the sofa, a white kerchief tied carelessly around her white neck, her black hair lay in silky waves against each rosy cheek.

"Divorce is the word," cries Jones playfully patting her cheek; "The fact is Eliza, I'm rid of that cursed woman, and you and I will be married to-night. I know how to mannage those scoundrels at Trenton. A champaigne supper, (or was it breakfast?) did the business with them. Put on your bonnet and things, and let us go to the preacher's at once, dearest!"

The widow who was among widows as peaches are among apples, put on her bonnet and took John's arm, and—

"Just look how handsome it is put on."

"See the parchment," said Jones, pulling the document from his pocket and with much rustling, spread it before her. "Here's the law that says John Jones And Caroline Jones are two. Look at it." Putting her plump gloved hand upon his shoulder, she did look at it.

"Oh, hear!" she said with her rose bud lips and sank back half fainting on the sofa.

"Oh, blazes!" cries Jones, and sank beside her, rustling the fatal parchment in his hand. "Here's lots of happiness and champaigne gone to ruin!"

I was a hard case. Instead of being divorced, and at liberty to marry the widow, John Jones was simply incorporated into a turnpike from Burlington to Bristol. When we reflect that Burlington and Bristol are located just one mile apart on the opposite side of the river, you will perceive the extreme hopelessness of Jone's case.

It's all the fault of the d——d turnpike man, who gave them the champaigne supper, or was it breakfast?" cried Jones in in his agony. "If they'd chartered me to build turnpike from Pigs Run to Terrapin Hollow, might have borne it; but the very idea of building a turnpike to Bristol bears an absurdity upon the face of it,"

So it did.

"And you ain't divorced!" said Eliza, a tear rolling down der cheek.

"No!" thundered Jones, crushing his hat between his knees, and pounding his head with his fists, "I ain't divorced, but I'm incorporated into a turnpike! and what is worse, the legislature is adjourned and gone home drunk, and won't be back to Trenton till next year."

It was a hard case.

The mistake had occurred in the last day of the session, when legislators and transcribing clerks were laboring under the effects of a champaigne breakfast.

Smiths name had been put where Jones' ought to have been, and "wisey wersey," so the Latin poet has it.

A FRAGMENT FOR A FRIEND.—It is evening? bright beautiful, and balmy.—The stars sparkling in the heavens, looking down on the earth-born, and the moon in regular, splendor, moves on its way through the trackless sky, shedding around a pearly lustre; while close on its track follows a cloud, ship-like, leaving its dark shore for a brighter clime. Imagination people it with the faithful beautiful spirits of her departed friends. There upon the brow stands an aged sire. His hands meekly clasped upon his heart. Around his head is a diamond of brilliant jewels, given by the Lord of the kingdom as a tribute of his love and forgiveness. By his side is one of more delicate structure.—She is clothed in white—the emblem of purity. A wreath of neverfading flowers encircle her brow, and in her hand she carries a lyre; gently sweeping the strings, since an admonition to one of earth's sons, her own dear darling boy. It is wafted to him by the night breeze, coming in the semblance of a dream, and once again he sees the fond affectionate look of his father, the beaming smile of his mother, and hears her persuasive tone then he thinks not of the cold, cold church-yard where their bodies are laid, but of that Land of higher bliss where they dwell, and remember the admonition to "lay up treasures in heaven," and murmurs a prayer that his garments may be pure and unsullied, that when the reaper comes, he may join those loved ones and meet an unbroken band around "Our Father's" throne.

A LINIMENT.—A receipt for a liniment which I have used for 15 years. When all patent liniments were proved as nostrums, this liniment was applied, and proved highly efficacious in all cases of sprains, bruises, wounds, external or internal no man or beast. I have used it with success in severe cases of rheumatism. No farmer should be without it, for there is none as good that I have tried, and I have tried the Arabian Mustang, and half a dozen others, and to no effect. In cuts, fresh wounds, scrape lint and put on it sugar: then saturate the sugar and the lint with the liniment. After well shaking apply to the wound, and keep it in the condition for 2 or 3 days: then leave off the sugar. In other cases rub well with the liniment: apply, after rubbing, a thick flannel to the parts. One-half ounce of spirits or hartshorn, two ounces of camphor-gum, one gill of spirits turpentine, one-half pint of sweet oil, one pint of alcohol, well shaken in all cases before using.

RAISING CALVES—A NEW METHOD.—While on a short visit to the farm of M. Corwell, of this town, a few days ago, our attention was drawn to a plan of raising calves for early sale, which to us in this section of the country, has the appearance of a great novelty, and seems worthy of consideration of stock growers.

Mr. Corwell took his calves (all heifers) last spring, and commenced feeding on sour milk to a few days old, keeping them on the same kind of food during the summer taking good care to feed them uniformly, but not very abundantly so as to keep them growing thickly without forcing them too rapidly. In the fall they were put in the stables on hay and a little meal increasing the quality of the latter gradually, with a view of fitting them for "beef" in the spring one year old or a little under.

These ten calves look like young oxen, and are estimated to weigh about 300lbs, each, alive. They will, probably, be sent to market soon, say next month, when we shall see how such beef will sell, and it will be relished by the lovers of good eating. For ourselves we should hardly find it in our heart to decline a dinner from one of the best of them. We understand that Mr. C., who is making this trial by way of experiment, that he is quite satisfied thus with the present attempt to raise beef in one year, that he intends to renew the experiment another year, when he thinks that some improvements can be made.—*N. FOREIGN AND COLONIAL.

Arrival of the Baltic

ALL RUSSIAN OUTWORKS TAKEN.

Frequent Sanguinary Conflicts!

NEW YORK, May 18.

The Baltic arrived at 5.40 p.m., with regular dates.

The Allies are gaining ground. A large number of Russian mortars are taking together with many prisoners.

Personal revenge is said to be the only object in the attempted assassination of Napoleon.

Nothing in the siege yet to warrant and assult.

The bombardment was much slackened.

Consols 88¼. Cotton active ⅛ advanced.

Wheat advanced 4d a 6d.

Flour advanced 1s a 2s. Corn 2s higher.

The Baltic left Liverpool on the evening of the 7th, and reached her dock at 6 p.m. bringing 160 passengers.

Lord Raglan admits the bombardment had not produced the thing looked for.

The list of casualities to the Allies is not heavy.

The general impression in England appeared to be that the seige would be abandoned for the present and that while Kamiesch and Balaklava are left to the defense of a few corps, the main body of the troops would try to penetrate into the interior and try to cut off the supplies from Sebastopol, and thus completely invest the city.

Rumerous reinforcements were constantly reaching the Allies.

The French reserve of 8000 men, near Constantinople, were expected to be sent to Balaklava.

The condition of the Allies was regarded as critical, notwithstanding the advantages gained.

The bombardment slackened on the 28th, not to exhaust amunition.

An immense Russian force was reported concentrated near Sebastopol, said to be 100,000 strong.

The government was very cautious with the news.

Lord John Russell had reached London.

Baron De L'Huys had reached Paris from Vienna.

The British Budget had passed both Houses.

The King of Prussia was very ill of fever.

The Russian official accounts are to April 24, and report the damage sustained as of little account, and which was actively repaired during the night, while the skirmishes are generally successful. The loss sustained by the Garrison from the 11th to the 15th was 7 subalterns and 36 killed; and 6 superior and 34 subaltern officers and 1894 men wounded.

The English captured the first Russian Rifle Pit on the night of the 17th, after a desperate encounter in which Col. Graham Egerton, the field officer in command was killed.

On the 20th an attack was made on the second Russian Rifle Pit, and it was immeditely abandoned.

According to the account of the two polish deserters, there were 100,000 Russians troops in the vicinity of Sebastopol.

The following is the latest from the seat of war:—

A sharp engagement took place on the night of the 1st, and the left attack. The whole of the Russian Rifle Pits were taken, 8 light mortars, and 200 prisoners. The whole affair was brilliant for the Allies.

PARIS, May 4.

It is reported to-day that, on May 2nd, the besiegers took possession of some very important Russian works.

After a fierce engagement on the 3rd, the Russian attempted to take the position, which remained in the hands of the allies.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 2.

Lord Stratfort de Redcliffs has returned to Constantinople.

Mahemit Ali is recalled from exile.

Canrobert speaks to his troops of immediate operations.

Orders have been received to prepare transports

Before Sebastopol, May 4.

On Wednesday night the French under Gen. Pelessier attacded the advance works of the Quarantine Bastion, and carried them at the point of the bayonet, taking 12 mortars from the Russians, and established himself in the conquered position.

On the following night the Russians made a sortie to regain the position, and after a sanguinary engagement were driven back.

The Baltic fleet had left Keil and the French fleets were about to sail from Cherbourg.

The insurrection in the Ukraine Russia, had extended to three other governments.—Twenty landed proprietors with their wives and families had been destroyed.

At St. Petersburgh every article was at famine prices.

The loan bill of £16,000,000 sterling was passed on the night of the 1st, by the Commissioners, and on the same night was ordered to be recommitted to the Lords.

The monthly returns of the Board of Trade are published; they are five days shorter than those of the month ending on the 15th of April 1854, and show a falling off of about £1,000,000 sterling.

Metals have experienced the greatest decline owing to the diminished demand for iron and railroads in the United States.

General Sir John Burgone was before the Roebuck Committee, and gave some important evidence in relation to the conduct of the war in the Crimea.

Throughout the country a strong feeling against the ministry is manifested. Indignation meetings against the conduct of the war has been held in Derby, Sheffield, and other places, and a meeting of the inhabitants of London will be held at which an administrative Reform Association is prepared to be organized. Simular meetings promoted by the principal men of all political parties are to be held at Liverpool and other towns.

Quebec Correspondence of the Colonist.

More Money for Lower Canada.

The House has just now exhibited a scene of unsual animation at the announcement, that the Government have decided to supply seed wheat to certain portions of Lower Canada. Many of the French members cheered the announcement: whether these people are unable to buy wheat for themselves, or why they are not, we are not informed.—But it is certainly a melancholy thing to go forth to the world, that a people, who have been giving £20,000 to relieve the sufferers by the eastern war, should be now applying to government for seed for their land. For my own part, I have never heard of a peculiar failure in the crops of last season in Lower Canada. Neither am I aware that last winter was more severe than previous ones. Nor am I informed, that the people have become poorer from any extraordinary causes. It is notorious that the farmers of Upper Canada, with the same crops, seasons and general advantages, have been growing wealthy for the last three years. Why the farmers of Lower Canada should be applying to government now for aid, after similar opportunities and advantages, it is most difficult to tell. I cannot disguise from myself, the fact, that many new settlements in Upper Canada frequently struggled against great difficulties—the want of seed, potatoe blight, and not unfrequently a total failure in the wheat crop,—yet their proud and manly fortitude never once permitted them to become petitioners for public relief.—They preferred privation to humiliation; and I cannot but respect them for their self-reliance. To see old settled counties in Lower Canada, without any particular or visible causes, applying for public relief, is a circumstance to me wholly inexplicable. For one, I cannot but sincerely regret it; as it must hereafter be coupled with reflections which may, or at all events ought to be, very uncomplimentary to a proud people.

I shall narrowly watch this unexpected, and, happily, unheard of proceeding in Upper Canada, and keep you advised of the particulars.

THE CORONER.—Some years ago we called attention to the disgraceful manner in which the duties of Coroner were discharged in this city, and had a suit for libel instituted against us; but that functionary with becoming prudence, did not allow the case to go before the Court, but withdrew it with our consent.

Our cotemporary of the Globe gives a report of a late Inquest, from which we copy the following "illigant" extracts, from the doings of Mr. Duggan; and if they do not demonstrate his peculiar fitness for the office, we know not what would:—

"The Coroner.—You see gentlemen, conductors like coroners, should have a great deal of patience. There is a conductor in the States who left me at a railroad station and took away two of my daughters to New York, leaving me to follow them in the next train. I offered fifty dollars to catch the scoundrel, and if I could but lay hold of him I'd give him such a clip that would flatten his nose like a pan-cake.

"A Juror.—A cheer for the Coroner."

"The Coroner.—Quiet boys."

"The Chief of Police, Sherwood, thinks that he and his men are the lords of the City, but I'll let them know the difference.—There's no mistake about that, because Mr. Cameron told me that if the Chief of Police refused to obey my orders, I could order him to be arested, and put in gaol. When I spoke to the Chief he called me an old—upstart, and faith, only I had a nice little cane in my hand which a lady made me a present of, and only that I did not wish to injure it, I'd have him think different. Bedad I would, if I had a shillelah in my fist."—Examiner.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO THE HON. F. HINCKS AND SON.—We regret to learn, by special telegraph, from Quebec, that Mr. Hincks' horse ran away with him yesterday, near the plains of Abraham. Both he and his son were thrown out; the son's legs were broken, and he was himself severely bruised. Another despatch to a gentleman in the city states that both the son's thigs are broken.—Leader.

DEPTH OF THE AMERICAN LAKES.—It has hitherto been asserted that Lake Huron was 660 feet deep, but has lately been ascertained, by the U. S. Coast Survey, that it is only 420 feet deep; Lake Erie is from 60 to 70 feet deep; Lake Ontario 452 feet —as low as most parts of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.—All the Lakes cover an area of 43,040,000 acres.

THE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.—A meeting of the Board of Agriculture for Upper Canada was held on Wednesday and Thursday, of last week at their office in this city. The following members were present: E. W. Thomson, Chairman; Hon. A. Fergusson, J. B. Marks, R. L. Denison, John Harland, and Geo. Buckland.

The business before the Board consisted principally of details connected with the approaching Provincial Exhibition at Cobourg in October next. A plan for the arrangement of the grounds and buildings was submitted by the Cobourg Local committee, and was approved of, and adopted by the Board. The prize list was fully revised, and several alterations and additions were made. With the view of encouraging, to the greatest possible extent, the importation of superior live stock, it was resolved by the Board to give to all male animals imported into the Province from Europe since the last exhibition, which shall take the first prize at Cobourg, three times the amount of prize offered in the list, and to females double the amount. To male animals imported into the Province from other parts of the continent of America it was agreed to give upon the same conditions double the amount of prize offered in the list, and to female animals 50 per cent. in advance of that offered.

After the transaction of some further business, the board adjourned on Thursday evening, to meet next at Cobourg.—Leader.

LUCY STONE NO MORE.—Alas, woman, that thy name should be—FRAILTY! But so it is. Lucy Stone, the charming little pleader for Woman's Rights, who so delighted our citizens a short time since, with her eloquence, has at last acknowledged her weakness, and bowed herself even before the boy Cupid and taken unto herself A HUSBAND! Mr. Henry Blackwell, Orator, &c., of Ohio, is the happy man. They were married, in West Brookfield on Monday last, by that friend of ours, Mr. T. W. Higginson, whom she pronounced, when here, "one of God's noblest creatures."—The bridal party were entertained at the residence of Doctor Elizabeth Blackwell in Buffalo, at a grand soiree on Wednesday.—Although the married pair have entered a solemn protest, (which will be published tomorrow) against the marriage vows now exacted as the probability is that her lord will soon say "rock the cradle Lucy," and command her to do many things more disagreeable than keeping "the baby warm"—in which latter occupation she will no doubt have the valuable assistance of Dr. Elizabeth.—Hamilton Banner.

NAPOLEON'S "OLD ARM-CHAIR."—The arm-chair in which Napoleon was accustomed to sit while a prisoner on the Island of St. Helena, is now on exhibition at the book store of Sprague & Co., on State street, Albany, New York. This priceless relic of the great champion of the French people is now the property of the Rev. Dr. Sprague. It was presented to him by the Rev. Mr. Bertand, a missionary on that Island for some fifteen years.

The N. Y. Tribune says that a decent was made on a lager beer den in that city, on Sunday night last, by a posse of the city Police.—The following is the statement of the Capt:

"A large number of the liquor and lager-beer shops were in full blast yesterday. Among the latter was Mr. Fredrick Weiza's somewhat notorious place, where, it is said, divine services with preaching and mock-sacraments have been held during the winter past, who not only saw fit to defy law, order and decency by throwing open his doors, but accompanied the proceeding with a band of music, and a great flourish of trumpets, which could be heard in every direction. I accordingly proceeded with a platoon of men, and arrested the whole party—musicians, bar-keeper, and ministers too, I suppose, and lodged them in the Station House."

RECIPROCITY CURRENCY.—By a document published in this paper and signed by the Merchants and buisness men of the city, it will be seen they have agreed to harmonize with the Canadians in receiving and passing the English shillings at 25 cents, the same as it passes for in Canada as regulated by the law there. Hitherto this coin has passed here at 22 and 23 cents, and always a cause of more or less embarrassment in making change. The arrangement is an excellent one and evidence the right spirit on the part of our citizens, all to whom the paper was presented, we understand having readily signed it, except one Dry Goods House on West First Street. The English shilling which varies but very slightly in intrinsic value from the "American quarter" should, as it doubtless will, now be received in all the frontier ports on our side at 25 cents, as it has been for many years by the American steamers on Lake Ontario.—Oswego Times.

The New York Herald says that trouble in Kansas is thickening; riots and mob law are following close upon the heels of the elections; the Governor has left the State, in affright, to report the condition of affairs to President Pierce; and President Pierce, the Herald adds, can do nothing to restore order! A very promising state of affairs, truly. The Herald attributes, all this civil strife to an unpardonable (in its eyes) attempt to raise man, "made after God's own image," to his natural state, and to restrain the spread of that vile system—slavery—which reduces him to the level of the brute.

Vegetables are so scarce at Sebastopol, that a man with three potatoes in his pocket will only dine with Lord Raglan. A fellow with three heads of cabbage has just opened a museum at Balaklava—admission two shillings, sixpence extra if you smell of the stalks.

The New Era.

Newmarket, Friday, May 25th, 1855.

East Gwillimbury Council.

The Above Council met at the Mansion House Sharon, on Tuesday the 15th inst.—all the members present and the Reve in the Chair.

[When we arrived, the Council was sitting as a Court of Revision; but as the business transacted was not of general interest we pass to notice the Council proceedings.]

Councilman Willson moved leave to introduce a By-Law to compel persons to remove all obstructions they may have placed, or caused to be placed, on the highways in the Township, when directed to do so by the Overseer of Highways.—Granted.

The By-Law was then introduced and read a first time; after which, the Council went into committee of the whole thereon,—Mr. Doan in the Chair.

Mr. Holborn stated he would like to give the Council his views upon the By-Law. If it became law, many would have to remove their fences; and as the old rails would not do to build with again, and at this season of the year they could not well get new ones, it would prove a very great hardship. If time was allowed, so as to give the parties the benefit of another season, the difficulty in a great measure would be overcome.

Mr. Eli G. Irwin asked the privilege of saying a few words.

On motion of Councilman Doan, leave was granted.

Mr. Irwin then stated that the object sought in this By-Law was his business with the Council to day. He had been appointed Path Master three years now in succession. They road he desired opened was along the second concession. They had now to cross over private property; and when there was a road allowance which could be made quite passible, it was not right to trespess on other people's land. As path-master he had warned the people along the line to make their fences; but they had not heeded him; and he thought a By-Law similar to the one now introduced would have the desire effect. All he wanted was power, and then he could do something. He would not like to throw down fences and expose people's crops to be liable to damage; but he would give them warning, and then if they did not heed let them abide by the consequence.

Mr. Holborn thought there were plenty of people in the Township that would take advantage of his power if granted.

Mr. T. Willson could not believe that any resident of East Gwillimbury would be so base as to take advantage of the law. There are certain lines that ought to be straightened, and something ought to be done to force them open. In many places where the road allowance was four rod wide, the people had encroached so much that they were scarcely two.

[The discussion then grew pretty warm between Mr. Holborn and Mr. Willson, in which the latter seemed to have the best of the argument.]

The Chairman then proceeded with the reading of the By-Law till it came to the clause requiring 8 days' notice to begiven by a Path-master before any action could be taken by him.

Mr. Stiles moved an amendment that 30 days be substituted instead thereof.

Mr. Holborn moved an amendment to the amendment that 60 days' notice be given,—which was lost upon a division.

Mr. Stiles' amendment, was then carried.

On motion of Mr. Willson the Committee rose and reported the By-Law as amended.

On motion of the same gentleman a rule of Council, in so far as related to that By-Law was suspended, and it was ordered to be read a third time forthwith.

The By-Laws was ordered to be read a third time, on the following division—Yeas—Messrs. Doan, Powell, Willson. Nays—Mr. Holborn.

On motion of Mr. Willson it was ordered that the By-Law just passed be placed in the hands of the Printer, to be printed in connection with those previously authorized.—Carried.

Mr. Holborn wished his name printed at the bottom of the By-Law as opposed to it.

He thought the yeas and nays ought to be printed.

Mr. Willson said the reporter now present will give your name circulation enough now. [Laughter.]

Mr. Powell moved for leave to bring in a By-Law to authorise the opening and repairing a line of road between Lots 106 and 107, leading through the first concession from St. Albans, which was granted.

The By-Law was then introduced and passed through three readings and ordered to be engrossed.

On motion of Mr. Doan, leave was granted to Sam'l. Johnson to perform 4 days of his statute labor under the supervision of Jonathan Gilson.

On motion of Mr. Doan, leave was granted to Wm. Rolland to perform his statute labor between lots 20 and 21½ in the 7th concession, and account for the same to the nearest path-master.

Mr. Powell enquired if Council had power to sell the wood now standing on the side road given by M. Millard and Chief Justice Robinson? A party had asked him that was desirous of purchasing provided he could work it out on the road.

Mr. Willson said the proper way would be to order the Clerk to advertize and sell the timber to the highest bidder.

A motion to that effect was subsequently moved by Mr. Powell, and carried.

On motion of Mr. Holborn leave was granted to parties desirous of taking sand from Dunham's Hill, to do so, on paying to the Councilman of that Ward 7½ per load.

Quite a merry discussion then ensued in reference to whether the money arising from sales should go into the general funds of the Township, or be expended on the roads in the Ward.

Mr. Willson moved a resolution to the effect that the money be paid into the Township Treasury; but it was negatived on a division.

On motion of Mr. Doan a resolution similar to that introduced by Mr. Holborn, was carried, in reference to taking sand from the hill between lots 10 and 11, in the 6th concession.

The Clerk stated that he had received a portion of the Wild Land and non-resident Tax of last year from the County Treasurer; which, together with what had been collected from the sale of timber in different road allowances, was appropriated as follows:

Ward No. 1,	£10 12 9
Ward No. 2,	11 12 11½
Ward No. 3,	2 11 0
Ward No. 4,	36 17 6
Ward No. 5,	15 14 1½

On motion of Mr. Willson the Reeve was ordered to issue his Warrant ordering the Treasurer to pay the above amounts to the Councillmen of the different Wards, to be appropriated by them in accordance with a By-Law regulating the same.

The Council then adjourned till the 3rd Saturday in September next.

The Legislature, FOR ONE DAY ONLY!

From the "Votes and Proceedings," we can, now and then, perceive an interesting day of Legislation; and we can also perceive how completely the cause of Reform has been betrayed into the hands of the enemies of progress, and of Responsible Government.—For instance on the 14th inst the member for Haldimand moved for the return of a "list of Executive Councillors, Judges, Coroners, Magistrates, Postmasters, Collectors of Customs, and other officers appointed by Government, within the last twelve months, with the amount of their incomes." But this would be bringing too light some of the doings of the Coalition, and they said—Nay! while their obedient followers—fearful of the result—bowed to their will, and sustained their decision. The following is the division:

Yeas:—Messieurs Bourassa, Brown, Darche, Delong, Desaulniers, Dorion of Drummond and Arthabaska, Ferrie, Gould, Hartman, Lumsden, McDonald of Cornwall, Mackenzie, Marchildon, Merritt, Prevost, Rolph, Sanborn, Scatcherd, Turcotte, and Valois,—20.

Nays:—Messieurs Bellingham, Brodeur, Cameron, Cartier, Casault Cayley, Chisholm, Church, Clarke, Crysler, Daly, Daoust of Two Mountains, Dufresne, Fortier of Nicolet, Fortier of Bellechasse, Fournier, Gill, Labelle, Langton, Laporte, Loranger, McBeth Matheson, Morrison of Niagara, Niles, Patrick, Poulin, Powell, Robinson, Shaw, Solicitor General Smith, Smith of Victoria, Somerville, and Stevenson,—34.

A little later in the same day's session, Mr. Mackenzie moved "that the Bill to abolish the Property Qualification of Members of the Legislature, be read a second time;" but in this case, as in the preceding one, the Coalition said nay,—and were backed in their decison by persons professing the principle of Reform—professing to represent the views of their Constituents—professing to advocate the best interests of the country—representing Reform constituencies, and elected by the Reform Party. How long will Reformers be duped, by sending such political tricksters to carry out reform principles? The following is the division on Mr. Mackenzie's motion:

Yeas:—Messieurs Aikins, Bourassa, Brown, Bureau, Chabot, Christe, Darche, Desaulniers, Dorion of Drummond and Arthabaska, Foley, Fournier, Hartman, Labelle, Laberge, Langton, Mackenzie, Papin, Powell Prevost, Sanborn, Scatcherd, Somerville, Turcotte, Valois and Wright,—25.

Nays:—Biggar, Bowes, Brodeur, Cameron, Cartier, Casault, Cauchon, Chapais, Church, Clarke, Cooke of Ottawa, Crawford, Crysler, Daly, Daoust of Two Mountains, Delong, Dufresne, Ferres, Fortier of Nicolet, Fortier of Bellechasse, Gill, Gould, Laporte, Lemieux, Loranger, McBeth, Attorney General Macdonald, McDonald of Cornwall, Sir Allan N. McNab, Meritt, Munro, Niles, Poulin, Rhodes, Robinson, Roblin, Solicitor General Ross, Solicitor General Smith, Spence, Stevenson, Terrill and Thibaudeau,—42.

Still later in the day, the same Hon. gentleman moved the second reading of a Bill to provide for the Public Printing and Advertising; but Hon. Robert Spence—that model statesman and Reformer moved to give the measure a six monts hoist, and it got it on the following division:—

Yeas:—for the hoist—Messrs Bowes, Brodeur, Cameron, Cartier, Casault, Cauchon, Cayley, Chabot, Chapais, Church, Clark, Cooke of Ottawa, Crysler, Daly, Daoust of Two Mountains, Delong, Desaulniers, Dufresne, Ferres, Fortier of Bellechasse, Fournier, Gill, Labelle, Langton, Laporte, Lemieux, Loranger, McBeth, Sir Allan N. McNab, Poulin, Rhodes, Roblin, Solicitor General Ross, Solicitor General Smith, Smith of Victoria, Somerville, Spence, Stevenson, Terrill, Thibaudeau, and Turcotte,—41.

Nays:—Aikins, Biggar, Bourassa, Brown, Bureau, Christe, Darche, Dorion of Drummond and Arthabaska, Fergusson, Foley, Gould, Hartman, Laberge, Lacwill, McDonald of Cornwall, Mackenzie, Munro, Papin, Prevost, Scatcherd, Valois and Wright,—22.

Hundreds and thousands of dollars are now squandered away, that might be checked, by the measure of the member for Haldimand. But this would in all probability, affect the pockets of private friends to the Coalition,—hence the result.

A Bill was also moved to be read a second time to establish "Courts of Conciliation" in Upper Canada; but it met with the same opposition—the Attorney General moved to give it a three months hoist, and it was thrown under the table on nearly the same division as above. Pretty well, for one day.

Indemnity.

We clip the following extracts, in relation to the movement recently made by Mr. Mackenzie to secure an investigation into the claim made by Mr. Montgomery, of Toronto, for the loss of his property in 1837, from a letter recently written to the Examiner:

"Last Saturday, Mr. Mackenzie brought forward, in the Assembly, a resolution for addressing the Governor, in favor of an inquiry into the loss sustained by John Montgomery of Yonge-street, by the burning of his extensive hotel, on Yonge Street, December 7, 1837, at the request of Governor Head, by the Queen's Militia.

Montgomery offers to prove, that he gave no aid to the outbreak, and he thinks it hard that he should loose $10,000 worth of property, because those who were sworn to protect property became its destroyers! while hundreds in Lower Canada, &c., were recompensed.

To my astonishment, Sir Allan McNab rose, and did his very best to excite a bitter feeling against Mackenzie, whom he accused directly of burning property, and hinted that he could, if he pleased, make disclosures of a terrible kind, which Mackenzie told him not to delay one moment.

Mr. Hincks, when on sale, describes the old family compact and the army they led in 1837, as "revengeful tories," "a pack of BLOODHOUNDS," who "at the time of the rebellion," deliberately and most wantonly burnt to the ground," Mr. Montgomery's premises, value $10,000; but, when Mr. Hincks had joined these tory "bloodhounds" as he [not I,] calls Sir Allan's grand army, he turned up his nose, not long since, at his brother director's application, and it was put down 46 to 14.

Among the nays I find Dr. Cook of Norwick who was, I think, sentenced to death at Hamilton in the times of trouble; also, Messrs. Geo. Brown, Cauchon, McNab, Cayley, Fergusson, Ferrie, Langton, Matteson, Munro, Patrick (son to Asa, of Scarboro') W. B. Robinson, James Smith, SPENCE, Stevenson, (a Yankee loyalist!) &c.

Gould of North Ontario, who is rather slippery down here, upon Grand Trunk and such like questions, voted on the division a few minutes before the Montgomery question, but when it came on Mr. Gould became invisible he had business elsewhere.

Dissolution!

According to the letters of the Quebec Correspondent of the Colonist, they appear to have enacted some rich scenes lately, at the seat of Government. The Coalition were carrying measures with such a high hand, by the aid of the French that a resolution was actually proposed to disolve the union; but let us give an extract from the letter:

"Among others, a resolution to to disolve the Union found upwards of twenty surporters; and had it not been introduced by Mr. Mackenzie I make no doubt that it would have found several more. These are sertainly curious indications of public opinion; and yet are regarded as the the forerunning of an agitation, in both Provinces against the continuance of the political copartnery. Those who voted for this resolution are worth knowing, and talking about, and I shall alude to them in my next."

Chronicles of Theophanes.

CHAPTER III

1 And moreover it came to pass that after the Brick Temple was fully finished and builded up, that the "men of trust" counted the cost thereof, with the ground pertaining thereto, and it was found to exceed one thousand shekels of silver.

2 And no more spacious temple of learning had been builded up in all the land that lyeth to the north of the mountain that divideth the great seas of Ontario and Simcoe.

3 And some counselled among themselves and said, We will lay even another tribute of three hundred shekels of silver, on the land, and therewith build up a dwelling for the Pedagogue; for the kindsman of a certain Pedagogue said amongst themselves, Peradventure he will yet be our teacher, and then will there be a house in which he and his household may sojourn alway.

4 And it came to pass, that after the brick temple was fully prepared for a pedagogue, that the "men of trust" came unto Theophanes and said unto him, We will make with thee a new covenant:

5 For, if thou wilt go to the Brick Temple and teach and instruct therein, for the space of one year, then will we give unto thee three hundred shekels of silver.

6 Now, Theophanes never appealed unto the "men of trust" for the school; but they first came unto him, even unto the house of James in the the city of Newmarket.

7 And when the covenant was made between John and Alfred and Theophanes, Theophanes said unto them, Verily I go forth to the temple, not knowing the things that will befall me there,—

8 Save that in every school "bonds and afflictions," bright-heads and block-heads, irritation and vexation, and all the "trials and tribulations" pertaining to the life of a pedagogue await me.

9 And as it had been covenanted and agreed upon, Theophanes ascended the chief seat of the Brick Temple, and for the space of one year sat in judgment there.

10 And divers disciples, great and small, even one hundred and twenty and eight different ones came unto him, to be instructed in knowledge and wisdom; and betimes three score and ten disciples came unto him in one day.

11 And the average daily attendance for the whole year, as the book of records will declare, was a small tythe less than two score. And the scribe doth verily doubt, when the books are opened at the beginning of the next year, that they will testify that so great a multitude of disciples hath attended the Brick Temple, notwithstanding the "sounding brass" with which the pinnacle of the building is now surmounted.

12 For Theophanes did faithfully labor to fulfil all the duties of a pedagogue; and his conscience doth verily testify that he was not unfaithful to the charge wherewith he was intrusted.

13 And Thomas, the chief of the pedagogues in this part of the land, oft-times came into the temple and examined his disciples wherein they multiplied in knowledge, and testified of these things.

14 And in the beginning of the sixth month the handmaidens desired to keep the feast of the passover; and plentiful tables were spread forth in the temple, and were covered with the goodly things that do nourish the "outer man."

15 And divers of the disciples of Theophanes and their fathers and mothers, together with the chief men of the land were there.

16 And Peter, the son of Benjamin, was the chief priest that sat in the chief seat of the temple that day. And Peter made a speech unto the people and gave much goodly admonition to fathers, mothers and children; and he also spake many goodly sayings pertaining to Theophanes, calling him, oft and anon, "our worthy teacher."

17 In fine, Theophanes verily thought himself unworthy of all the goodly sayings which Peter spake concerning him.

18 And Thomas, the chief, also made an oration, and John, and Robert, and likewise others of the chief men of the land, spake unto the assembly; and none had evil on their tongues against the school or against Theophanes.

19 Ad moreover it came to pass, that after they had ended all their sayings, that Nathaniel rose and declared that as Theophanes had been a faithful pedagogue, it was meet that the people should give unto him a vote of thanks.

20 And the assembly arose with one accord and testified that all were satisfied.

21 Now the scribe writeth these things not so much to praise Theophanes, as to show unto the people that even Samuel and his kinsman were not really opposed to him as a pedagogue—but that he was in a place where they desired a near kinsman to be; and verily this is the substance of the whole matter.

22 And how "the men of trust" wrote a letter of commendation to Egerton, and how in the tenth month they called the people together to elect a pedagogue for the next year, and how they all voted for Theophanes, save and except two, with things pertaining thereto, will be recorded in the last chapter of these chronicles.

King Public Meeting.

A meeting of the friends of Temperance, of the Villages of Lloydtown, Brownsville and vicinities, was held in the Methodist Chapel, Lloydtown, on Tuesday, May 1st, inst., which was organized by calling Mr. John Graham to the Chair, and appointing J. W. Hughes to act as Secretary.

Rev. A. G. Geikie, M. A., addressed the meeting,—urging in a very convincing manner the necessity of a Prohibitory Liquor Law.—After which, the following resolutions, among others of minor importance, were adopted:

Moved by Thos. W. Tyson, Esq., seconded by Mr. Wm. Agnew, and

Resolved—That there be a Branch League formed in this place, and that the name of the same be the "King Prohibitory Liquor Law League."

Moved by Mr. Wm. Moore, seconded by Mr. John Brown, and

Resolved—That the Secretary be instructed to forward reports of the proceedings of this meeting to the Temperance Advocate, Globe and New Era, with a request for other papers to copy.

OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR:

President—T. W. Tyson, Esq.

Vice Presidents—Messrs. David Halliday and John Graham.

Secretary—J. W. Hughes.

The meeting then adjourned.

J. W. HUGHES,
Secretary.

FOREIGN AND COLONIAL.

The steamer Keystone State, the first of this Line now opened between the Ports of the Upper Lakes and Collingwood Harbor, at the termination of the Northern Railroad, arrived at the latter place on Monday evening, the 14th instant, with a number of passengers, and upwards of 4,000 barrels of freight. The passengers arrived here at 9 50 a. m., and proceeded across the Lake by the Peerless, which had been detained for their accomodation. The Lady Elgin arrived at Collingweod on Friday, the 18th and the Lousiona and Niagara on Monday, the 21st. The proceeds of the trip of the Lady Elgin are said to have amounted to $4,000. This is an encouraging commencement, and the recent increase of the tariff on the Western Railway will no doubt tend to secure a large business for this Line. The Milwaukie Sentinel says—"This raising of the fare on the Railroads will give the new Collingwood Line, just about to go into operation, a first-rate chance to secure a good share of the travel. Let them fix upon a moderate tariff of prices, and their boats from this Lake will run full all the while."—Examiner.

The Oswego Journal thus describes the operation of the Reciprocity Treaty:

"Nearly all our mills are in operation, but many of them are selling flour faster than they can grind and pack it, and orders in all cases cannot be filled. More flour is shipping north by the St. Lawrence than east by the canal, forming a new and remarkable feature in our trade, produced by the operation of the Reciprocity Treaty. After the treaty went into effect, most of our stocks of flour and grain in the Canadian ports on Lake Ontario were brought up and shipped to our side before the navigation of the St. Lawrence opened, leaving the cities of Montreal and Quebec with exhausted supplies and without their usual resources in Upper Canada. In consequence, those cities and the population of the Lower St. Lawrence resort to our market for supplies of flour, made mostly from Upper Lake wheat, being a matter of pressing and absolute necessity with them. The stocks of Canadian flour and wheat in our market are very much reduced, most of them not sold here having gone forward to eastern markets."

The Washington Monument.—The New York Herald of Friday, states that seven years of time, and two hundred and thirty thousand dollars in money, have already been consumed in this work, and it is not yet one-third completed. A further sum of million a dollars is required. Thus stands the matter at the present time. The Society's affairs have been conducted in a very slow way heretofore. The managers have been quite as dilatory as the gentlemen having chargo of the erection of the Bunker Hill Monument.—Leader.

Post Office Money Orders.—The Washington Correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer says, "the circular of the Postmaster General, under which will be commenced a system of money exchanges through the Post Office, is of much importance. If it operate as beneficially as is expected in insuring the transmission of money by mail, the business will become the most remunerative of all the divisions of the postal service. It will soon be assimilated to the money order features of the British Postage system, and while greatly increasing the labors of the department, will soon enlarge its revenues as to bring it out of its difficulties, and make it again a paying and self-sustaining establishment."

From an official notice in the Journal of Education, we learn, that in order to afford every possible aid to young persons attending the Normal School to qualify themselves for success, the Council of Public Instruction have decided, in addition to free instruction and the use of books, to aid each student obtaining a second as well as first class certificate, at the rate of five shillings per week, during each session; payable at the end of the session on the student obtaining, after examination, either first or second class Provincial Certificate of Qualification as a Teacher.

The corespondent of the New York Times says that the United States department of the Paris Exhibition presents a deplorable appearance of emptiness. Goodyear, the patentee of improved India-rubber goods, proposes filling up the American department with over-shoes of that elastic manufacture. The writer adds, "Canada, which has too little space, would be glad to utilize a portion of our superfluity." On the same authority we learn the satisfactory intelligence, that those American visitors in Paris, who went to that gay metropolis in expectation of being admitted to intimacy with the Emperor, have had the good sense to perceive the absurdity of such an idea.

The Hon. Joseph Howe, of Nova Scotia accompanied by a foreign gentleman, visited Niagara Falls on the 20th inst. and remained until the 23rd. The Niagara Mail surmises that the object of their visit was to endeavour to raise troops for a foreign legion. In reference to the above the St. Catherines Post says,—"It is said there is to be a depot at Niagara for German recruits, raised in the United States for foreign service. The Hon. Mr. Howe was there the other day in reference to barrack accomodation for them. Upwards of 5000 men have been engaged for the Foreign Legion, but the number required is 10,000. 5000 will be sent to Canada, 2000 to New Brunswick, and 3000 to Nova Scotia.

Scarcity in Kentucky.—The Kentuckians are experiencing much inconvenience, if not actually suffering from the scarcity of corn consequent upon the drouth of last summer. In many instances the country authorities have taken the matter in hand, and have sent agents out to purchase corn, which is to be sold at cost to persons able to pay for it, and on a credit to those who are unable to now. Trimble county has two depots on the river, one at Garrat's landing, the other at Milton. When received it is divided into lots not exceeding fifteen bushels to any one person.

Blowes and King.—The bodies of these unfortunate young men who underwent the extreme penalty of the law, at Cayuga, on Friday last, for the Murder of Mr. Nelles, were brought to this city on Friday night by their friends. The body of Blowes was conveyed to Dundas, and that of King to Toronto, where they would be interred.—We understand it would not be admitted on the boat and was consequently conveyed by land carriage.—Hamilton Spectator.

His Excellency the Governor General has been pleased to make the following appointments, viz;

John P. Wheler, of Scarborough, Esquire to be an Associate Coroner for the United Counties of York and Peel.

John Wellington Rosebrugh, of Dundas Esquire, to be an Associate Coroner for the County of Wentworth.

Charles Young, of the Township of Stafford, Esquire, to be an Associate Coroner for the United Counties of Lanark and Renfrew.

James Hough, of Guelph, Esquire, to be Clerk of the County Court of the County of Wellington, in place of Alfred A. Baker, Esquire, resigned.

William Hamilton Burns, of the City of Hamilton, Esquire, Barrister and Attorney at Law; and James Cockburn, of the town of Cobourg, Esquire, Barrister at Law, to be Notaries public in Upper Canada.

Mr. Cayley was heard in this place, and stated that he looked upon this motion as a general measure, appropriating a salary for the officers and not for the individuals, and that he claims the privilege of voting.

Mr. Mackenzie moved that the vote of the Hon. Mr. Cayley be disallowed—Yeas 23; Nays 40.

It was then moved that the bill be not now read a second time, inasmuch as it is not in accordance with the resolution adopted for its introduction—Yeas 24; Nays 40.

Notice having been given that the bill was not in accordance with the resolution of the committee of the whole, on which it was founded, on resolution having been passed previous to the first reading for the augmentation of the salary of the Admiralty Judge.

☞ "PROGRESSION" was received rather late for insertion in to-day's issue, as yesterday was observed as a holiday.

☞ Rev. S. F. RAMSAY, Incumbent of St. Paul's Church, Newmarket, has our kindest acknowledgments, for a basket of fine Asparagus—the best we have seen this season.

☞ J. W. COLLINS, Esq., has received the Agency for the sale of all kinds of Agricultural Implements. Farmers in need of such articles would do well to give him a call.

☞ Mr. G. L. DARBY has our thanks for late New York and Buffalo papers. He has been to New York purchasing an extensive stock of summer goods for the establishment with which he is connected.

☞ We omitted to state in our report of the late proceedings of Whitchurch Council, that Mr WM. WALLIS had been appointed Pound Keeper in place of ROBT. SHIGLEY, who has removed from Newmarket.

☞ LEVI J. NORTH'S Colossal Circus will perform in this place on Thursday next, the 31st inst. This is an extensive establishment, comprising three companies in one. It is also announced that Prof. MCFARLAND will make a grand ascension on a single wire, to the top of NORTH'S Pavilion in the afternoon, a few moments previous to the Circus performance.

☞ The side-walks are in a very dilapidated condition, and need more repairing than any road in the place. It is to be hoped, as we received nothing the past year, that Council will appropriate a handsome sum this year, for that special purpose. Newmarket will probably pay altogether, between £75 and £80 into the Township Treasury; and we ought, therefore, to receive part of it back in the shape of a grant.

Birth,

In Whitchurch on the 18th inst., the wife of Mr. J. P. Bogart of a son.

Married,

By Elder Hayward, on Tuesday the 22nd inst., Mr. Thomas A. Lewis, to Miss Hannah Garbutt, both of East Gwillimbury.

Died,

At Sharon, on the 12th inst., WILLIAM REID, aged upwards of 90 years. He was a native of Banffshire, in the north of Scotland. Thus has one who was among the early pioneers in the settlement of this part of the country, like a "shock of corn fully ripe," been taken from among us, we trust to his eternal rest.

He was a man of more than ordinary intellect, which he retained with remarkable clearness to the last, (being a clerk in his son's store a few months before his death.) He had an excellent English education, and his mind was stord with various reading and extensive information; he was, therefore, a useful citizen, a kind neighbor, and in the latter part of his life a decent, sincere and consistant christian. In his last illness he suffered but little pain; but his prayer was to be released from the body to dwell with Christ.

As a Reformer, he was firm and inflexible; ever sympathising with the people and struggling for constitutional rights.

For 41 years he was a member of the Children of Peace. For some years he seemed wholly abstracted from the world, his mind peaceful and quiet, and appeared like one in daily communion with his God. In a few words, such was the life and death of WILLIAM REID; and the latter teaches us this impressive lesson—that it is of little consequence what our name, faith, or peculiar form of worship is, "the heart that is right before God will be accepted of him." His dust now mingles with kindred dust, and his spirit, we trust, is with God that gave it.—Peace be to his memory.—Com.

AMUSEMENT.

MAYNOOTH.—Lord Palmerston recently refused to receive a deputation on the subject of Maynooth, and told them, "I can easily imagine what the deputation would have to say to me, and while, on the one hand, I am convinced they could not alter their opinion, I am quiet sure they would not alter mine."

A CAUTIOUS FELLOW.—We learn by a man "who was dar," that a few days ago, in Berwick, Me., a good honest-looking country-fellow was looking at the telegraphic wires there with astonishment. A passerby asked him what he thought of it.

"Wall I don't know exactly," replied the fellow, "but I'm sure they wont get me to ride on the darned thing,—them wires and posts would tear my breeches all to pieces."

"My love," says Mrs. Foozle to her husband, "oblige me with a five pound-note today, to purchase a new dress."

"Shan't do any such thing Angel; you called me a bear yesterday."

"Lor, love, that was nothing; I meant by it that you were so fond of hugging."

"You little——, I have no five but here's a ten."

LIFE IN DANGER.—A highwayman, confined in Newgate, sent to know how he could defer his trial, and was answered, by getting apothecaries to make affidavit of his illness. This was accordingly done in the following manner:—"The deponent verily believes that if the said prisoner is obliged to take his trial at the ensuing session, he will be in imminent danger of his life." To which the learned Judge on the bench replied, "that he really believed so too."

Two Irishmen, in crossing a field, came in contact with a jackass, which was making "daylight hideous" with his unearthly braying. Jemmy stood a moment in astonishment; turning to Pat, who also seemed enraptured with the song, he remarked:—

"It's a fine large ear that that bird has for music, but he's got a wonderful cowld!"

"So hear I am between two tailors," said a beau, at a public table, where a couple of tailors were seated, who had just commenced buisness for themselves.

"True," replied one of them, "we are young beginners, and can only afford to keep one goose between us."
